north canton public library and the little art gallery

fall 2014

explore the civil war

The North Canton Public Library is one of fifty sites nationwide selected to host Civil War 150, a national traveling exhibition that will be on display in the Little Art Gallery beginning Wednesday, September 18 through Saturday, October 4, 2014. An opening reception, featuring a lecture delivered by humanities scholar and Walsh University Professor, Kelly Selby, will be hosted in the gallery September 18 beginning at 5:30 p.m. All are welcome.

The exhibit will allow patrons to experience the battle through the eyes of major political figures, soldiers, families, and freedmen. By virtue of letters, personal accounts, and images, it will become evident how people grappled with the end of slavery, the nature of democracy and citizenship, the human toll of civil war, and the role of a president in wartime.

The Gilder Lehrman Institute developed the exhibition to mark the Civil War Sesquicentennial. The Civil War 150 is divided into five panels: The Nation Divides, 1861: The Union is Dissolved, This Cruel War, 1863: Turning Points, and The Price of Victory (1864–1865). Drawing from the Gilder Lehrman Collection, each section traces major events during the Civil War.

The project is presented by

in partnership with THE GILDER LEHRMAN INSTITUTE OF AMERICAN HISTORY and is supported by a grant from  NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE Humanities

Beginning September 6, the North Canton Heritage Society

will host Ohio in the Civil War, a traveling exhibit exploring Ohio's participation in the war and focusing on individuals' choices that impacted local communities and the course of the war. The Heritage Society will house the exhibit through October 5. Through the lens of three themes - Democracy, Transformation, and Memory - the exhibit explores topics such as civil rights, political dissent, pacifism, religion, and popular culture and reveals patterns in our country's response to such topics throughout history and to the present day. The exhibit was developed by the Ohio Historical Society in partnership with the Ohio Humanities Council and American Electric Power.

The library is proudly partnering with the North Canton Heritage Society to offer free programs and events for the public in conjunction with Civil War 150.

September 6 – October 5: Ohio in the Civil War on display at the Heritage Society

September 18: Civil War 150 opening reception featuring Kelly Selby and Abraham Lincoln re-enactor at the library

September 20: View the 29th Ohio Volunteer Infantry encampment outside the Heritage Society from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

September 27: The library welcomes guitar enthusiast Steve Ball for a presentation featuring six Martin guitars as well as actual sheet music from the Civil War time period

Developed by the Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History in partnership with The Library of America, this exhibition was made possible through a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The exhibition is part of Civil War 150: Exploring the War and Its Meaning through the Words of Those Who Lived It, a major three-year project funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities. The project is centered on the four-volume Library of America series The Civil War Told by Those Who Lived It.

R.J. Palacio's Wonder: One Book, One Community 2014 Selection

The North Canton Public Library will join many additional libraries in Stark County to explore "the wonder of Wonder" throughout October. This hopeful story has bridged generations, appealing to all ages, with its beautiful message encouraging kindness. The library will provide 30 consecutive days of Wonder programming beginning October 1. We're excited to do our part to help advocate for kindness in Stark County.

outreach services...meet ker!

At the North Canton Public Library, we are always seeking new and progressive ways to serve our community. To this end, we have established an outreach services program with a goal of going beyond the walls of the library to provide the North Canton community with exciting new programs, services, educational materials and entertainment resources.

Keri Burick, our outreach services manager, is working to build relationships with North Canton businesses and organizations, identify and develop opportunities to expand programming, communication and awareness within our community, and to represent the library at community meetings and events. If you have new ideas for ways we can serve our community through our outreach efforts, please contact Keri at 330.499.4712 x323 or kburick@northcantonlibrary.org.
